

stylin'

080

Technotronic

Written By CB Mills

In this issue: Things that shade, shave and surge links to love:

letmegooglethatforyou.com
zingsale.com
laptopcopsoftware.com
waterwalkerz.com
smartbolts.com
howtosaythatname.com

Luster Oral Care

lusteroralcare.com
$39.99

Everyone is looking to tighten their budgets these days. Dental care might not be the first thing you'd think to do yourself, but teeth whitening isn't exactly a root canal. The Luster 1 Hour White system uses technology similar to dentist's light treatments and whitens up to six shades in one hour without causing any tooth sensitivity. Simply rinse, brush on the gel and apply light for two minutes. And while you're being frugal, drop the coffee and cigarettes for some extra savings.

no!no! professional hair removal system

my-no-no.com
$249

Have some extra hair? Electrolysis requires taking out a loan and Nair burns like a fiery hell. The no!no! system is comparably cheap with no pain, no mess and no chemicals. Perhaps, more importantly for many of you, there's no technician snickering at your body hairy. Slowly glide the no!no! over your prickly regions and heat conducts down the hair shaft and into the follicle. The no!no! Skin for acne is coming soon.

Coffee Cup Power Inverter

thinkgeek.com
$29.99

Gadgets beget more gadgets. Charge your existing ones while keeping your vehicle organized with this coffee cup. It fits in a standard cup holder and provides outlet and usb 120 Volt AC power from any cigarette lighter socket. It also has overload protection and low battery shut-off so it won't drain all the caffeine out of your car's battery. Just try to keep your lips off of this cup! •

